FLOOD WALL SUGGESTED TO HOLD BACK FLOOD WATER

City May Build Low Flood Wall to Hold Back Water Until It Reaches Level of Limestone Bridge—Councilmen Investigate.

Mayor Thomas M. Russell has been studying a plan to keep high water out of the bridge street "hole" until the river reaches a fifty foot stage and covers the floor of Limestone bridge. The Mayor with others have decided that the only plan is to build a low flood wall from the West end of Limestone bridge to the junction of Second and Bridge streets making the wall level with the end of the bridge and level with Second street.

It is pointed out that such a flood wall will hold back the water until it reaches the fifty foot stage and covers the floor of Limestone bridge. The steam fire engine can keep the water from the "hole" so long as it does not come over the sidewalk and thus permit traffic to pass through Second street.

The majority of our high water marks are below the level of the bridge and yet get high enough to fill the bridge street "hole" and cause much inconvenience to business men and much expense to the city by maintaining an extra fire department in the East end of the city. This flood wall proposition was presented to members of Council today and all looked upon it favorably. The cost will be light and Council may act on the matter at its next meeting.

EXPLODING CAP CAUSES LOSS OF THUMB AND FINGERS

Adams County Boy Explodes Dynamite Cap in His Hand Losing Members.

George Jack, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wyle Jack, of Seaman, Ohio, lost his thumb and two fingers on his left hand, and his three younger brothers were more or less injured. Thursday when a dynamite cap held by the older boy exploded with terrific force.

Mr. Jack and his family had moved on the Adams poultry farm on Buck run the first of the week, and the boys, in looking through the buildings of their home place, found some dynamite blasting caps. Mr. Adams, who owned of the farm, had done considerable blasting of stumps and had some of the caps left which he had placed on a rail tie in the corn crib.

The Jack boys took five of the caps into the dwelling house. George, the oldest boy, with four caps in his pocket held one cap in his left hand and proceeded to explode it with a lighted match while his three brothers stood close around him.

Suddenly the cap exploded with great force, tearing off the thumb and two fingers from the left hand of the boy who held the cap. Twenty-three pieces of the brass case of the cap were extracted from the leg of another one of the boys by Dr. T. Stephenson, on Winchester, who was called to dress the wounds of the injured children. The face and eyes of a third child were very seriously injured while the fourth child escaped with but a few minor injuries.

LITTLE GIRL LOST FOR SEVERAL HOURS.

Little Miss Edna Paul, beautiful and interesting five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Paul, of Second street, was reported as lost to the police about noon today. The little girl had left home about 8 o'clock this morning and her parents though she was playing with neighbor children until they looked for her near dinner time. Not finding her in the immediate neighborhood, they reported the matter to the police. About 2 o'clock the little girl was found at the home of Mr. Thomas Mullikin, not far from her home, and returned to her parents.

LAST WEEK OF LOCAL MARKET OPENS MONDAY; SALES SHORT

Little Over a Million Pounds Sold This Week at Small Average of $15.55—Season Sales Ten Million Short.

The Maysville looseleaf tobacco market begins the last week of the year Monday with sales very nearly ten million pounds short of last year and with prospects of small sales during the last week.

Supervisor Mitchell's figures show that during the week which closed Friday of this week a total of 1,030,115 pounds were sold at an average of $15.55 per hundred, which is very low but warehousemen agree with Mr. Mitchell that the quality is ruling the price and that all good tobacco when offered sells at a good price.

At the close of this week's sales the market has sold for the season a total of 20,403,380 pounds at a season's average of $24.18, as against season sales for last season of 30,038,470 pounds at a season average of $32. These figures show the market nearly ten million pounds behind last year and all warehousemen agree that if a million pounds are sold next week, it will be considered a good week.

All farmers in this district should remember that the market will positively be closed next Friday and all their tobacco should be sold by that time or they will be compelled to carry it over.

PRESIDENT SAMUEL URGES CITIZENS TO HELP POOR KIDDIES

In Note to Colonel Russell, President Samuel, of the Board of Education, Urges All Citizens To Help Penny Lunch Benefit.

Colonel J. Barbour Russell this morning received this letter from Dr. J. H. Samuel, President of the City Board of Education, who is now a patient in St. Elizabeth Hospital, Covington:

Col. J. H. Russell:—Am just in receipt of your letter stating that "The Twilight Baby" tickets are not selling fast enough to satisfy me. I am not hard to please except when such a worthy cause is at stake. You are absolutely correct, the show is to be given for a most worthy cause and knowing the home-folks as I do, I am surprised that they are slow in showing their encouragement. You have been untiring in your efforts to aid the children of the Second ward school and to place the Penny Lunch fund upon a solid basis. Do our people fully understand that you are working for the poor kids, the children of indigent parents? The children who are selling tickets should explain to the people that it is not simply a show but something that has the word charity engraved all over it. Plenty of people rarely ever go to a picture show—yet scores of this type will purchase tickets to aid so charitable cause when once its purpose is explained to them. Maysville has never failed to respond to a worthy cause or encourage any undertaking that was based upon charity.

I believe that just at this time you are over anxious and I am going to prophesy that the good folks of Maysville will come to your rescue and help you in your work for the indigent kiddies. With well wishes, Yours, J. H. SAMUEL.

RISE VERY SLOW HERE THIS AFTERNOON.

The gauge at the local wharf at 2 o'clock this afternoon registered 50.6 feet. The river is rising very slowly and Forecaster Devereaux says it will reach a stand tonight or early tomorrow. Captain Ellison, of the steamer Chris Green, which arrived here at noon, however, did not give such encouraging reports, saying that he expects quite a bit more water from above. The water is now blocking traffic on Bridge street but pedestrians may cross over the C. & O. track. The water is only three or four inches from the floor of Limestone bridge.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS TO BE FORMED

Local Women On Committee to Arrange for Convention Soon To Be Held.

The following resolution was passed: "Resolved that the board of the Kentucky Equal Rights Association, now the board pro tem of the Kentucky League of Women Voters, desires to bring to the attention of the leaders of the political parties the fact that if they desire to poll the votes of the suffragists of Kentucky they must not select their candidates from those who have officially opposed the granting of political rights to women."

It was determined to hold a convention at an early date for the purpose of adopting a constitution and electing officers of the new League of Women Voters.

Miss Alice Lloyd, of this city, is a member of a committee to plan for this convention.

TOM MOORE BARS PLAYS RE-QUIRING IMPOSSIBLE HERO

Goldwyn Star Finds Most Human Role in "A Man and His Money."

A star like Tom Moore usually has a clearly defined idea of what he does best and what sort of character he therefore likes to assume. In his career on the screen before he became a star in Goldwyn pictures, Moore has played over three hundred roles. On the stage he played fully one hundred. Most of them with stock companies, presenting Broadway successes. Tom Moore is frank in saying that the part of Harry Lathrop in "A Man and His Money," which comes to the Pastime Theater Thursday holds special appeal for him. Temperate in his opinion, he does not announce with the enthusiasm of the actor that never was there a role like it. He realizes that his characterization of a society spendthrift in "A Man and His Money" is his fundamentals is not unlike other parts he had assumed. He does say, however, that the part is more human than he has ever been able to make such a fellow in previous photoplays.

"It is my belief," says Moore, "that people nowadays want to see themselves reflected on the screen, not impossible heroes who surmount terrific obstacles, escape fearful dangers and generally crowd the adventures of a dozen D'Artagnans into a single hour's life in the cinema. There is a vast difference between being likable and being likable. In my early days before the camera I was thought that action was the only worthwhile element in producing photoplays. Characterization was given no thought. People had to move rapidly and constantly. It didn't matter if they forgot to think. It's different—inspiringly different—nowadays."

TOM MIX INSURED IN THREE SECTIONS AGAINST ACCIDENTS

Three Companies Take One Section Each—the Total of Policies $300,000.

As a risk, accident insurance companies consider Tom Mix, the cowboy film star, as safe as a mine sweeper. Mix discovered this recently when, finally yielding to the persistent urging of friends, he tried to find a company which would insure him for $300,000 against the dangers incident to his daredevil work for the screen.

"After receiving flat refusals from several companies Mix discovered three large concerns which would insure him in sections, each section for $100,000 at high premiums. Here is how the insurers parcelled him out among them:

Head—Insured for $100,000, annual premium $1,200.

Torso—Insured for $100,000, annual premium $1,750.

Legs—Insured for $100,000, annual premium $1,900.

To learn why the insurance men fixed the annual premiums of $4,850 on Mix's insurance one need not go farther than his latest Fox production, "Rough Riding Romance," to be shown at the Pastime Theater Tuesday. In that film he catches a flying express train by roping a ventilator pipe on one of the coaches while tearing alongside on his horse Tony, and then pulls himself aboard; he rides Tony up six flights of a fire escape, then up and down the main stairway of a palace; and he makes a flying escape from a mob of pursuers by swinging from a balcony on a huge electric chandelier, executing an arc of 60 feet several times.

COMEDY RAMPANT IN "GIRLS" LATEST CLARK PHOTOPLAY

Dainty Paramount Star Has Many Opportunities For Effective Work.

Comedy is rampant in the new Paramount picture, "Girls," starring charming and dainty little Marguerite Clark, which will be shown at the Washington and Gem theaters next Tuesday.

One of the delightful situations in the film is that confronting a young man who has fallen hopelessly in love with a beautiful girl, and is seeking admittance to her home that he might woo her. But his beloved is living under the impression that she is a man-hater, having been jilted in her younger days and having sworn a hatred of all men, has hung above her door a sign reading, "No man shall cross this threshold."

Such a glaring defiance might have intimidated most young men, but not Edgar Holt. He is a young lawyer and a man who perseveres. He simply goes around to another room across the courtyard, crawls across a suspended shutter and enters her window. Thus he gains admittance into her presence without crossing the threshold. And he wins the girl too. How? Oh, it is all an accident, but it's too good to give away. See the picture and find out.

Walter Edwards directed this production, which is the first to be made on the Pacific Coast by the charming little star in four years. It was adapted from a play of the same name by the late Clyde Fitch, a celebrated dramatist. Hal Young and James C. Van Trees were the cameramen.

EWEET GINGHAM MAID WAITS IN COW LOT FOR LOVE'S RETURN

But Alas! "A Twilight Baby" at Washington Next Week Is Under Long Contract for Bootlegging.

Some inside information on country-town courtship is an interesting feature of "A Twilight Baby," Henry Lehman's first comedy production for First National Exhibitors' Circuit, and which will start on a one day engagement at the Washington Theater, Monday.

To reveal the history of the birth of the twilight baby would be unfair to those on the Henry Lehman comedy staff who doubtless spent weary hours thinking of ways and means of injecting the humor into this picture. It is not out of reason to say that the twilight baby, however, upon reaching manhood is serving time in a well guarded industry, thanks to his talent and indulgence in a practice known as "bootlegging."

Meanwhile the sweet girl in gingham is waiting in the cow lot for the return of her loved one who made a noble sacrifice in trying to aid those affected with the "wild thirst." Finally a return is effected and the twilight baby, a full grown bootlegger, returns to his adopted family.

Lloyd (Ham) Hamilton plays the part of the twilight baby grown into manhood and Virginia Rappaport depletes the role of his devoted sweetheart.

WOMAN CAN MAKE MAN DO WHATEVER SHE WISHES

Miss Talmadge Will Give You A Hint In A Flirt Scene From Her New Picture, "Two Weeks."

Constance Talmadge proves that a woman can get anything she wants if she only knows how to go about it, as you will see in "Two Weeks," a picture taken from "At the Barn," Anthony Wharton's play, which will be shown at the Washington and Gem Theaters on Friday of next week.

Miss Talmadge, as Lillums, a show girl, flees from an escort who has been rude and winds up at the home of three crusty bachelors. The grave, old butler is horrified at her appearance and tells her no women are allowed on the premises. Nothing daunted, she shows him a slight thorn bruise and pretends to be suffering.

The butler falls at once and in his sympathy takes her to the bath room, to bathe and bind up the wound. Then Lillums is caught by the owners, who are shocked at the very thought of her intrusion. But a flirty smile and a toss of her pretty head wins two of them to her cause and she settles down for a visit. And the third bachelor? Well she vanquishes him plenty before her two weeks stay is finished.

It's the story of a chorus girl who wins her way to stardom and then gives up the stage because she has found something more to her liking.

RETIRING SECRETARY A "SHIRT-SLEEVE" BOY

COMMANDER EVANGELINE BOOTH

FRANKLIN K. LANE.

FRANKLIN K. LANE TO "FOLLOW ON"

Accepts Invitation to Become National Chairman of Salvation Army's Annual Appeal for Funds.

WASHINGTON'S BEST BELOVED RESTARTING LIFE AT 55.

Former Cabinet Officer Before Entering the Oil Business as an Executive for the Doherty Interests Will Lend His Great Abilities to the Church Militant Organization.

Franklin K. Lane, referred to far and wide as "Washington's best loved man," is undertaking two notable undertakings at an age when most men think mainly of retiring to the quiet of private life. One is to "earn enough money to support my family and keep my bills paid," and the other is "to step down from a high place to resume my place among the shirt-sleeve boys and give them a hand if I can."

Two history making statements from a man of Mr. Lane's attainments and station in life! And the remarkable part of it all is that he puts the shirt-sleeve matter—the thing about helping his neighbors—ahead of that other thing—making more money in order the better to underwrite the Antium of his life!

Few men reach a higher note in the affection and confidence of the public mind than has this remarkable man from the West, who was once an editor, then a lawyer and finally a member of the President's cabinet and who withdraws from public life to "earn a better living" after rendering a service to the government the extent and value of which would be impossible to estimate. Still fewer men are called to such responsible places as Franklin K. Lane will now occupy. He will enter the oil business as an executive for the Doherty interests and will be established in New York City for that purpose by April 1. But the busy prospect of making "a living wage" after several years spent in struggling along on the salary of a cabinet officer has not intimidated Mr. Lane to another opportunity—that for striking a few powerful blows on behalf of the "man who is down, but never out."

Franklin K. Lane has accepted an invitation from Commander Evangeline Booth to become the national chairman for the Salvation Army's annual appeal for funds in 1920. He is already on this job, although Wall Street does not regard him as an all well executive for another month.

"It is a genuine privilege to find opportunity for encouraging a work so direct and practical and so valuable to the masses of the people as the work of the Salvation Army," said Mr. Lane at his office in Washington the other day. "When Commander Miss Booth asked me to take the responsibilities of national chairman for the 1920 appeal of that organization," continued the secretary, "the first thought that flashed across my mind was, 'How can I spare time for such work when I am entering upon a commercial task of great responsibility?'"

"And then there flashed across my mind a vision of the things the Salvation Army does—the help it gives to men and women and little children just when and where they need it most—and I thought to myself that after all there could be no more important thing than this. So I accepted—along with the other job—and I am trusting to the generosity of my new employers to endorse my action in the matter."

"I believe every right thinking man and woman in America owes the Salvation Army some of his or her time every year. And I am going to pay my share. I am going to get my shoulder squarely behind the movement for human that can win the hearts and the confidence of the common people like this Salvation Army has won them in recent years. I am going to pull off my coat and do some real work that will show where I stand when it comes to weighing the homely, unostentatious and highly practical relief methods of this amazing band of workers. I heard the call. The problems of the poor are there to be solved, and they can use my poor efforts perhaps, so I have answered the call.

The process of crushing the seeds of various plants for the purpose of extracting the oils has been known and employed in Japan for centuries.

"I won't do much talking in the coming drive. I will do real work, and when I do talk I don't want to talk to anyone but actual workers. There will be no speech making by me to those who might be curious to hear a former cabinet officer in action, but who are not interested in the work of the Salvation Army. I shall talk to workers and only to workers. The day for oratory in such matters has gone. We are down to brass tacks.

"I think I owe it as a citizen of America to show my understanding and appreciation of the helpful work the Salvation Army is doing in its rescue homes, maternity hospitals, free clinics, industrial homes, fresh air farms and tenement house relief work.

"My testimony is not needed, however, in this matter. There are 2,000,000 or 3,000,000 of young Americans who went into the recent war either unaware that the Salvation Army existed or having no real knowledge of it. If they did know of it, so far as I can learn these men came out of that war unimpaired on one subject—and that was that the Salvation Army understood the average man, knew how to deal with him and simply 'delivered the goods' on the 100 per cent basis.

"There is no division of opinion on that one subject. There could have been no greater test for the Salvation Army than the test it received in the war. So after all, I am merely adding my voice to the mighty chorus I have referred to when I say that the Salvation Army has long since won the right to make an appeal to the rest of us for its maintenance, and I am sure it will not make that appeal in vain.

"The Salvation Army one year ago abandoned its old custom of begging in the streets the year around so that its workers could devote all of their time and attention to the poor. It makes an annual appeal each May. Personally I know of no greater hindrance that could be raised against the rising tide of human unrest than to strengthen the hands of this band of self sacrificing Christian toilers who have the confidence of all men and women regardless of race, creed, color or position in life. I think it is important for the interests of our advancing civilization that such a practical and wholesome work be stimulated and maintained to the utmost.

"They say there are no 'down and outers' any more. Personally I do not believe it, or if I did believe it I would know that the abnormal times have swung the pendulum back too far on one side—and that it will swing far to the other side directly. There will always be a bottom to society. The poor will always be with us. We owe it to our fellow men to know our neighbor and share his troubles and problems, and only by that method can we, in all fairness and righteousness, keep the scales even in this life.

"I am proud to face the problems of the poor with the Salvation Army in such a trying hour, and I hope that American men and women will stand with me in the work ahead of us. But they must be workers. I shall have no time to entertain mere observers."

Both for the organization that gives aid and relief to the poor and for the poor themselves, the high cost of living has been a troublesome factor in recent months. Money does not go far these days, but there's no one in the world who can get more worthwhile work out of a dollar than can the Salvationists. In this country they gave away 3,990,767 meals in the twelve-month ending last September 30, and provided 871,391 meals besides at approximate cost. They supplied free beds for 1,181,547 night lodgings and 1,408,887 at a merely nominal charge. And in addition to all this and to all that was done for thousands in the Army institutions they gave temporary relief to 709,351 persons.

HARD TO COLLECT REQUEST OF 150 BARRELS ALCOHOL.

New York. — Whether or not the American Alcohol Company, Inc. of 50 Wall street, will be forced or even allowed to deliver 150 barrels of alcohol, valued at $8,500, as a part of a bill, must be decided by the surrogate's court. Millard P. Tompkins of 60 Wall street applied for ancillary letters of administration in the surrogate's office on behalf of Mrs. May Davies Haussman on the estate of her husband, Isaac George Haussman, a resident of Paris, France, who died there on July 22, 1917.

While Haussman left a large estate in France, his estate, according to his widow's petition, consists of a claim against the American Alcohol company for this large amount of alcohol, which the company failed to deliver.

Haussman was last in this country in November, 1916, when the impending ban on liquor was only a moot question and far from realization. It is said that he executed his will two weeks before his death, at which time he named an executor, which under French law, leaves him technically intestate, hence the application of his widow for ancillary letters of administration, to place her in a position to take the necessary legal action to recover the "undelivered" alcohol.

MOTHER PAROLED TO RAISE CHILD.

McAlester, Okla. — Thelma May Clark, two years old, recently left the women's ward of the state penitentiary, the only home she ever knew. She was freed when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Clark, were released from sentences of four years for killing a doctor at Welch over a matter involving Mrs. Clark.

Mrs. Clark's sentence would have kept her prisoner for some time longer, but Gov. Robertson ordered her released earlier in order that the family might leave together.

The parents are going to Bethany, Mo., where five other children of the Clarks have been kept by relatives. They have a little money to begin life anew.

The inmates of the women's ward, thirty-one murderers, thieves and women of the streets, showed relief on their little red haired companion of two years and all wept copiously as she waved them good-bye.

ENGLISH MOVIES

ARE SPEEDED UP.

London. — There is a new form of high-speed profiteering being practiced in many parts of England which is primarily injurious to eyesight, and is also causing exasperation to the nervous system of stolid John Bull.

By heightening the speed of pictures in many movie theaters on Saturday afternoons and evenings it is possible to accommodate three households in the space ordinarily devoted to two performances in an afternoon or evening. Saturday is always a bummer day for the picture palaces.

It has its humors, however, as when in showing tropical films sedate lord mayors are made to trot about in their flowing robes in the most undignified haste. Even funeral processions do not escape the speeding up in some cheaper picture houses. Serious movie dramas often resolve themselves into comedies because attenuated lovelorn scenes are dispatched with the speed of slapstick farces.

FALLS WITH GUN AND KILLS SON ON HUNTING TRIP.

Port Jervis, N. Y. — Harold Washburn, 26 years old, of Ossining, died in the Deer Park sanitarium here from a gunshot wound accidentally inflicted by his father, J. F. Washburn. They were hunting in the Pennsylvania woods near Millford when the tragedy took place.

Mr. Washburn, who is connected with a Wall street brokerage house, said his shotgun was accidentally discharged when he stumbled and fell. Father and son decided they would spend a few days in the Pennsylvania woods. They went to Millford, and were at the farm of a man who has dogs to let, on the outskirts of the little town. They were looking over the dogs, and had nearly selected a pair, when Mr. Washburn, who was walking toward his son, stumbled and fell. The shotgun discharged its load into Harold Washburn's body.

BOTTLED SNAKES GREET OFFICIALS.

Denver, Colo. — Detectives Schneider and Chuven entered the home of W. A. Hevan, an electrical engineer. Immediately they saw a row of dark bottles upon a shelf. Schneider, sent in illicit liquor, made for the shelf and opened out of the bottles. The next instant he dropped the bottle and leaped clear across the room.

From the bottle which lay on the floor came a hissing rattlesnake. "Don't get excited, gentlemen," said Hevan. "Those are just a few pets I have around here to keep me company."

Schneider and Chuven found that the remaining bottles on the shelf contained lizards, horned toads, mice, and other reptiles and rodents. Elsewhere were found several dozen bottles of freshly brewed liquor and a jar of mash. Hevan was held for violating the prohibition law.

Home Proof, Here, There and Everywhere.

When you see Doan's Kidney Pills recommended in this paper you must always find the recommender a Maysville resident. It's the same everywhere — in 3,800 towns in the U. S. Fifty thousand people publicly thank Doan's. What other kidney remedy can give this proof of merit, honesty and truth? No one testimony must be true or it could not be published here. Read this Maysville recommendation. Then insist on having Doan's. You will know what you are getting:

George H. King, prop. grocery, 615 E. Second St., Maysville, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for several years, getting them at J. J. Wood & Son's Drug Store and I have been greatly benefited by them. Sometimes my kidneys have been out of order and the kidney secretions have been irregular in passage. I have suffered severely with aches through the small of my back. When I have been that way, I have used a box or two of Doan's Kidney Pills. They have never failed to euro the attack."

"Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. King had. Foster-Billburn Co., Mfrs., N. Y."

Novelty Ribbons Form Very Interesting Spring Hats

Some of the novelty ribbons are so designed that when they are draped into a Hat they have every appearance of being especially prepared for that very Hat. This is especially true of one model we are showing of taffeta ribbon, in which at equal distances appears a frayed fringe effect worked in the ribbon on the bias. The Hat is small, fits the head closely and is quite as charming as you could imagine. Novelty ribbon affects are shown on much of this millinery prepared for your Easter choosing.

An Awful Feeling Seem Necessary

Pepto-Mangan, The Red Blood Builder, Does Away With Langnor.

If you don't feel like doing things, you won't. If you wonder where some people get all their energy, the answer is from good food which in turn makes rich, red blood.

If your food does not give the nourishment and vigor it should, it is most likely that your blood is so weak that it needs a little extra help for a time to build it up to normal strength.

Thousands of men and women have been restored to vigorous health and lasting happiness by Gude's Pepto-Mangan. This beneficial blood tonic contains the very properties so vitally needed to improve the blood. Pepto-Mangan, if taken for a few weeks, will enrich the blood and create thousands of the tiny red blood cells that are so necessary to every part of the body.

Be sure to ask your druggist for "Gude's" when you order Pepto-Mangan. For convenience it is prepared in liquid and tablet form, both possessing exactly the same medicinal properties. "Gude's" is the genuine Pepto-Mangan. Look for the name "Gude's" on the package.—Advl.
